The following list of stocks was generated using the Stock Watchlist Weekly algorithm which analyzed thousands of stocks for both technical and fundamental positive indicators for high-probability, index-beating gain potential, for both short term trader and long-term investor watchlists (with a focus on no-dividend growth-focused mid-cap stocks).

The algorithm is limited to assessing substantial public companies: NYSE or NASDAQ listed; highly liquid; optionable; share price under $500.

This algorithm is used to generate picks each week through the Stock Watchlist Weekly Newsletter (click for 30-days FREE).

5 Must-Watch
Industrial Sector Growth Stocks

Why the Industrial Sector?

You might think that due to the holidays, the Consumer Cyclical/Consumer Discretionary sectors would be the best bet for this time of year. But historically, Industrials have been even better...

For the period October 29th-December 7th over the last 20 years:

Vanguard Consumer Discretionary ETF (VCR) - 39% annualized return / 80% win rate

Vanguard Industrials ETF (VIS) - 52% annualized return / 85% win rate

So on that theme, the following Stock Watchlist Weekly Special Report includes a list generated by a modified version of the SWW algorithm that limits the picks to stocks in the Industrials sector. The Dividend Yield requirement was also changed so any rate can be included. But otherwise, the stocks must be NYSE or NASDAQ listed; highly liquid; optionable; share price $3-$500.

The goal here is to find the stocks that are statistically positioned for the best possible gain in the sector that has the best track record historically for this time period.

The top 15 generated by the algorithm were published in the full report on Stock Watchlist Weekly...
